SDG 1.4 Community anti-poverty programmes

1.4.1 - Does your university as a body provide assistance in the local community supporting the start-up of financially and socially sustainable businesses through relevant education or resources? (e.g. mentorship programmes, training workshops, access to university facilities)?

Of course, As part of our commitment to social responsibility and promoting the success of local small businesses, Northern Technical University (NTU) has been actively involved in providing mentorship and support to many small and medium-sized business owners within the community. Our assistance includes advocacy and support in addressing production challenges, streamlining administrative processes, and conducting feasibility studies. Through these efforts, NTU seeks to empower our students and entrepreneurs with the essential knowledge and resources to overcome challenges and enhance their operations. By fostering collaboration between our students, faculty, local businesses, and local and international civil society organizations, we are creating an environment that encourages innovation and growth, which contributes significantly to the economic development of our community and helps reduce poverty. Northern Technical University is strongly committed to promoting local entrepreneurship and ensuring that small and medium-sized businesses thrive in a competitive environment.

❖ The College of Agricultural Technology organizes a bazaar for handicrafts..

Under the patronage of the President of the Northern Technical University and under the supervision of the Dean of the College, Professor Dr. Shihab Ahmed Youssef, The Rehabilitation, Employment and Follow-up Unit, in cooperation with the Media and Public Relations Division and in coordination with Ashur Bazaar, organized an exhibition of artistic handicrafts for students (bazaar) in addition to displaying Mosul and Iraqi dishes. The exhibition was well received by the students, who welcomed this initiative to support their handicrafts and products and to support the national product.

- ❖ The Northern Technical University, with the support of a number of international organizations, is holding a small and medium enterprises exhibition to support our dear students and graduates and to enhance economic recovery and reduce poverty.

❖ Under the patronage of the President of the Northern Technical University, Prof. Dr. Alia Abbas Ali Al-Attar, the Department of Media and Government Communication and the Women's Empowerment Division at the University Presidency organized the sixth glass painting course, which aims to teach participants a new skill that may provide them with opportunities to enter the free labor market, develop themselves financially and economically, and reduce the poverty rate. Lectured by:

- Lecturer Hanadi Salem Muhammad, Head of the Women's Empowerment Division at the University Presidency

Participated in the course: A number of university students

- ❖ Within the series of activities of our university that benefit its students even after their graduation, we organized, under the patronage of its president, Professor Dr. Alia Abbas Ali Al-Attar, and in cooperation with the Riyada Organization for Talent Building, the International Academy for International Leadership, and the Dutch Spark Organization, a job fair with the participation of more than 5 companies, the General Sugar Office, just as we have always known our university to provide all means for its students and graduates, and we ask God for more brilliance and prosperity.

- ❖ Under the direction of the President of the Northern Technical University, Prof. Dr. Alia Abbas Ali Al-Attar, and under the supervision of the Assistant President of the University for Scientific Affairs, Assistant Professor Dr. Omar Rafeh Mahmoud, the Rehabilitation, Employment and Follow-up Division is holding a workshop entitled Private Entrepreneurship in cooperation with the Liberation and Development Association.

- ❖ The Northern Technical University launched the activities of the First Nineveh Entrepreneurship Forum, which coincided with the Global Entrepreneurship Week (GEW) held annually from November 13th to 16th. The forum aimed to present the importance of entrepreneurship through various activities and promote the exploration of pioneering innovation and entrepreneurship. The forum was also an expression of the initiative of the Iraqi Prime Minister, Mr. Muhammad Shiaa Al-Sudani, who launched the Reyada platform to strengthen the Iraqi entrepreneurial community by supporting emerging projects, developing creative thinking, improving youth skills, and building capacities. The Northern Technical University shared this vision by supporting innovation, young ambitions, and creativity, and creating a productive ecosystem for innovation and emerging entrepreneurship.

On its first day, the forum included several events and activities to spread the culture of entrepreneurship and support innovation. It featured many keynote speakers, consultants, and entrepreneurs from Iraq and abroad, who demonstrated the importance and role of entrepreneurship in progress and development. They also highlighted the challenges and opportunities in various industries and the importance of supporting promising young people with their innovative and emerging projects. The forum also presented some success stories of young graduates and their journey to achieve their goals. The activities of the first day also included an open session where consultants, business owners, academics, and civil society organizations answered the attendees' questions and inquiries regarding innovation and entrepreneurship.

The activities of the first day concluded with the opening of an exhibition of scientific and technical innovations by students of colleges and institutes, which showcased a wide range of pioneering and innovative scientific products.
